

EASY PLANNING

FOR A FAMOUS EVENT

Planning for an event with Lee's is as easy as answering a few simple questions. With Lee's as your planning partner, your event is sure to be famous! Here are some questions to get you on the right track:

- How large is the group you're serving?
- What type of event is it? If it's a meeting, you might consider boxed dinners. If it's a picnic, bulk ordering is the way to go.
- Will you need desserts?
- Will the group need serving utensils or paper products?
- Will the group be serving themselves or will there be set portions? This will help dictate the amount of food needed.

Once you've answered these questions, it's time to go through our serving suggestions. This will help you get the right amount of food for your group. That way, no one will go away hungry!
